NATIONAL INTEGRITY FRAMEWORK

WHAT IS THE NATIONAL INTEGRITY FRAMEWORK?

The National Integrity Framework is a suite of policies which sets out rules for unacceptable behaviour in your sport and explains the way Complaints about breaches of these rules are managed.

The Framework was developed by the independent government agency Sport Integrity Australia in consultation with sports to keep your sport safe and fair.

The Framework is a set of rules that all members of your sport need to follow when it comes to their behaviour and conduct in your sport.

There are four core policies which make up the National Integrity Framework. These are:

1. Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy
2. Member Protection Policy
3. Competition Manipulation and Sports Gambling Policy
4. Improper Use of Drugs and Medicines Policy

These policies outline what types of behaviour are unacceptable in your sport – these behaviours are called Prohibited Conduct. Prohibited Conduct is an action that is a breach of a policy – for example, bullying is Prohibited Conduct under the Member Protection Policy.

These core policies are underpinned by the Complaints, Disputes and Discipline Policy.

The Complaints, Disputes and Disciplines Policy explains how people who have breached a National Integrity Framework policy are held accountable for doing the wrong thing.

Under this policy, any person or organisation who breaches a policy may be sanctioned. A sanction could range from mandatory education all the way up to a ban from participating in sport.

Under the National Integrity Framework, Sport Integrity Australia can manage all Complaints about discrimination, or any behaviour which might be considered Prohibited Conduct under the Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy.

This means that the majority of Complaints under the National Integrity Framework, including the highest risk and most complex Complaints, will be handled independent of the sport where they occurred.

All other Complaints under the National Integrity Framework can be made to your sport, who will handle these Complaints under the Complaints, Disputes and Discipline Policy.

This means, whether a Complaint is handled by Sport Integrity Australia or your sport, there is a consistent process for handling Complaints.

What does it mean for me?

As a member of a sport that has signed up to the National Integrity Framework, if someone behaves poorly by breaching one of the Policies, you can make a Complaint about the breach.

If the Complaint is about Safeguarding Children and Young People or Discrimination, you can make the Complaint to Sport Integrity Australia. All other Complaints can be made to your sport.

If the person is found to have breached a policy, they may be sanctioned. Similarly, if you breach a National Integrity Framework policy, you could be sanctioned.

Step 4: Inform Sport Integrity Australia through a Complaint or Report by filling in the online form at Making An Integrity Complaint or Report.

What happens if someone commits a breach of this Policy?

Any alleged Prohibited Conduct that is reported will be dealt with under the Complaints Disputes and Discipline Policy. This could result in a sanction ranging from a warning or mandatory education to a ban from sport. Criminal conduct will be managed outside of this process by law enforcement.

COMPLAINTS, DISPUTES AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

Overview

The Complaints, Disputes and Disciplines Policy (CDDP) provides sport and its participants with a complaint management process that can be run by either Sport Integrity Australia or the sport.

This means when someone wants to make a formal Complaint about allegations of Prohibited Conduct under any of the National Integrity Framework policies, it will be managed under the same process, whether the Complaint is being handled by Sport Integrity Australia or by the sport.

The CDDP sets out the process for how Complaints will be managed and, if required, how any sanctions will be imposed.

Why make a complaint?

Sport is a wonderful part of Australian society, providing physical, mental and social benefits for everyone who participates.

To keep people involved in sport, we need to make sure it is safe and fair for everyone. Unfortunately, sometimes people turn a blind eye to poor behaviour, even when it's clear that something unacceptable has happened or people have been hurt.

Reporting these behaviours as soon as they occur can address the behaviour, prevent any ongoing issues and make sure they don't get worse. Holding people accountable for bad behaviour also sets a standard within sport that these types of conduct won't be tolerated. Doing so will protect all participants, and build environments that are safe, fun and fair for everyone.

What is managed under the Complaints, Disputes and Discipline Policy?

The CDDP can be used to manage any instance of Prohibited Conduct under these policies:

- ✔ Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy
- ✔ Member Protection Policy
- ✔ Competition Manipulation and Sport Gambling Policy
- ✔ Improper Use of Drugs and Medicine Policy
- ✔ Other relevant policies as defined by your sport

Other relevant Policies

Your sport can use the CDDP to manage allegations of Prohibited Conduct under other policies they may have.

Examples could include Code of Conduct, Governance, or Social Media policies.

The use of the CDDP to manage other relevant policies is at the discretion of your sport.

You should check your sport's Integrity page on their website, or ask your National Integrity Manager for more information on any additional policies that will utilise the CDDP for complaint management.

What is not managed under the Complaints, Disputes and Discipline Policy?

The CDDP is forward-looking and puts in place a new process to protect the future of Australian sport. As such, Complaints that have already been managed under another complaints process in the past cannot be managed under the CDDP unless new information becomes available or there is a compelling reason to do so.

Additionally, non-recent complaints, or complaints about Prohibited Conduct that occurred before your sport adopted the CDDP, cannot be managed through this process. Poor conduct which occurred before this should be managed under the disciplinary policies in place at the time.

Reporting Non-Recent Matters to Sport Integrity Australia

Participants can report non-recent Safeguarding matters or Discrimination matters to Sport Integrity Australia if they choose. This information can then be used in ways other than this Complaint Process to make sure similar behaviour doesn't occur in future – for example, to help build education and intervention programs. Sport Integrity Australia can also pass the information to someone else who may be able to take action if appropriate (for example, police or a child protection agency).

Sport Integrity Australia's Safe Sport Hotline is offered to members of sport to share their story with a trusted member of the Sport Integrity Australia team. Wellbeing support is offered throughout this process.

Phone 1800 161 361

7am-7pm, 7 days a week, 365 days a year

Where to make a Complaint

If your Complaint is about Discrimination or any issue relating to the Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy, you can make the Complaint to Sport Integrity Australia by filling in the online form at www.sportintegrity.gov.au/making-integrity-complaint-or-report.

All other Complaints can be made to your sport. To find out how to make Complaints to your sport, visit the Integrity page on your sports website, or contact your sport's National Integrity Manager.

What is the Complaints Process?

Once a Complaint is received, it will be evaluated to determine whether it can be managed under the CDDP.

If the Complaint meets the requirements to be managed under the CDDP, it will be evaluated to determine which category it falls into.

If the Complaint is categorised as 'Category 1' it may be managed through a range of measures such as education rather than a formal investigation.

If the Complaint is categorised as Category 2 or 3, the Complaint may be investigated and will lead to a finding about what is likely to have happened.

As part of an investigation, people involved with the Complaint, including witnesses, may be contacted to provide information about the allegations that have been made.

If there is not enough evidence to substantiate the Complaint, the process will end. If there is enough evidence to suggest the alleged conduct is more likely to have occurred than not, the allegation/s in the Complaint will be found to be Substantiated and the sport will issue a Breach Notice and manage the resolution process, including deciding and enforcing any sanction they deem appropriate.

The Respondent may appeal the Breach Notice or sanction before the matter is finalised.

At any time during the process, the matter may be referred to an external organisation such as to law enforcement or a child protection agency if required.

Prohibited Conduct

The CDDP also outlines Prohibited Conduct relevant to the Complaints Process.

The following actions and behaviours are breaches of the Policy:

- ❌ Failure to report potential Prohibited Conduct once aware of it.
- ❌ Deliberately withholding information about Prohibited Conduct during the Complaints Process.
- ❌ Deliberately providing inaccurate or misleading information during the Complaints Process.
- ❌ Failure to provide information or documentation when requested during the Complaints Process.
- ❌ Failure to comply with any sanction/s as required.
- ❌ Failure to keep information about a Complaints Process confidential.

Full definitions of Prohibited Conduct are available in the CDDP.

Prohibited Conduct affecting children and young people

If Prohibited Conduct under the Member Protection Policy is alleged to have happened towards anyone under the age of 18, it should be considered an alleged breach of the Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy, and reported to Sport Integrity Australia.

Information on how to report breaches of the Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy can be found online at www.sportintegrity.gov.au/what-we-do/national-integrity-framework

What is the reporting process?

You must report conduct that may be considered Prohibited Conduct under this Policy to your sport.

Visit the integrity page on your sport's website, or contact your sport's National Integrity Manager to find out how.

What happens if someone commits a breach of this Policy?

Any alleged Prohibited Conduct that is reported will be dealt with under the Complaints Disputes and Discipline Policy. This could result in a sanction ranging from a warning or mandatory education to a ban from sport. Criminal conduct will be managed outside of this process by law enforcement.

COMPLAINTS, DISPUTES, AND DISCIPLINE POLICY

COMPLAINTS PROCESS: STEP BY STEP

September 2023

The Complaints process is set up to keep Australian sport safe and fair. This document outlines how complaints about poor behaviour will be managed under the Complaints, Disputes and Discipline Policy.

STEP 1 MAKING A COMPLAINT

People can lodge a Complaint regarding discrimination or breaches of the Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy to Sport Integrity Australia using the online form. Assistance is available by calling 1300 027 232 and selecting option 3.

Complaints about other Prohibited Conduct should be submitted to a person's sporting organisation. If a Complaint is about bullying, Sport Integrity Australia has created a 'Bullying in Sport' booklet that offers other pathways a person may choose to pursue.

STEP 2 EVALUATION

When a Complaint is received, it will be evaluated to work out if it is in-scope and will be managed through the Complaints process. To be in-scope, a Complaint needs to meet the following criteria:

- The person who submitted the Complaint is the person directly affected by the alleged conduct (or their authorised representative), or the parent/guardian of a Vulnerable Person directly affected by the alleged conduct.
- The alleged conduct meets the definition of Prohibited Conduct under any of the National Integrity Framework policies, or under one of the sport's relevant policies.
- The alleged Prohibited Conduct occurred after the sport's commencement of the National Integrity Framework or relevant policy.
- The person or organisation accused of wrongdoing was bound by the sport's policies at the time the alleged conduct occurred.

From this point on, the Complaint may also be referred to another organisation, such as the police or a child protection agency.

Who manages complaints?

Complaints about alleged conduct under the Safeguarding Children and Young People Policy or Discrimination based on Protected Characteristics including race, disability, sex, religion or age can be submitted to Sport Integrity Australia. All other integrity complaints will be managed by the person's sport.

Case Categorisation

Sport Integrity Australia will determine which category the Complaint falls into based on the Case Categorisation Model.

If the Complaint is assessed as 'Category 1' it may be managed through a range of measures such as education, and the matter will be closed.

If the Complaint is assessed as Category 2 or 3, the Complaint may be investigated and will lead to a finding about what may have happened.

STEP 3 INVESTIGATION

An investigation is the process of determining what has happened based on the balance of probabilities. As part of an investigation, people involved with the Complaint, including witnesses, may be contacted to provide information about the allegations that have been made. In more complex matters, the people involved in the Complaint may be required to participate in formal recorded interviews.

It is important that enough information is received to make an informed decision, so depending on the complexity of the Complaint, this can take time. Parties to the Complaint will be kept updated at appropriate points during the process.

STEP 4 FINDINGS

If a person's Complaint is investigated, there are three possible findings that can be made.

Substantiated: If there is sufficient evidence to suggest the alleged conduct is more likely to have occurred than not, the allegation/s in the Complaint will be found to be substantiated.

Unsubstantiated: If, based on the evidence, it is more likely than not that the Respondent did NOT breach a policy, the allegations will be found to be unsubstantiated and the matter will be closed with no further action.

Unable to be Substantiated: If there are two equally plausible versions of events, or not enough evidence to make a finding either way, the matter will be unable to be substantiated.

When a matter is managed by Sport Integrity Australia, they will notify the parties to the Complaint of the findings and refer the matter to their sport to manage the resolution process, including guidance on sanctioning if applicable.

STEP 5 RESOLUTION

If a Complaint is found to be substantiated, the sport is responsible for issuing a Breach Notice to the Respondent and may also determine an appropriate sanction. A sanction can include a range of measures ranging from a reprimand to a suspension or expulsion from the sport, depending on the category of the breach. The Respondent can either accept the Breach Notice and proposed sanction, at which point the matter will be finalised, or they can choose to dispute the findings against them and/or the proposed sanction at a hearing tribunal.

The sport will enforce any sanctions that result from the Complaints Process.
